The Arrival Letter

Read this aloud on the first morning, or copy it in your best "elf handwriting."

Dear _____,

I'm back! Santa sent me all the way from the North Pole to keep an eye on things until Christmas. I'll fly home every night to report, and I'll be back each morning, but I can't promise I'll behave. Elves get bored easily...

Remember the rules: you may talk to me, tell me secrets and show me your best drawings, but please don't touch me, or my magic might wear off!

Here's what I already love about you:

Love, _____ (your elf)
